

Capstone Course Outline
EQUALIZING ACCESS TO JUSTICE

TUESDAY

Removing the Barrier

UNST 421 –534, CRN: 65642 , 6 Credits

University Studies - PSU - Spring Term 2015

TEXT: Breaking the Ice, Daisy Kabagarama, 3rd Ed. INST: M. Khalil Zonoozy 503-725.4198
The New Jim Crow, Michelle Alexander Office: T, TR 9:30 -10:00am & 1:30-2:00 pm
Readings on Access to Justice, M.K. Zonoozy E-mail: GCI2001@yahoo.com
UUR Workbook, Uniting to Understand Racism

CLASS: TUESDAY, 10:00 am - 1:30 pm, Urban Center 511

Community Partner: Uniting to Understand Racism Guest Lecturer: Prof. Stephanie McBride
Web: Uniting to Understand Racism UUR Dialogue Co-facilitators:
Info: alison@resolutionnorthwest.org Justice Edwin Peterson, J.D. & Dr. Duane Bosworth, J.D.

- Designed and developed by M.K. Zonoozy

COURSE OBJECTIVE: A comprehensive examination of contemporary multicultural and cross-cultural imperatives, this course will explore the barriers to justice for people of color. Special attention will be given to the U.S. institutional structure and the justice system. Utilizing a progressive approach, students will acquire a deeper understanding and awareness of the root causes of the existing disparities, leading to design and formulation of proactive solutions.

COURSE COMPONENTS: There will be a community partnership with "Uniting to Understand Racism" UUR, a non-profit organization committed to reduce prejudice and discrimination in our communities through study and personal examination. Created in response to issues identified by the Oregon state Task Force on Racial Ethnic Issues in the Judicial System (Instructor served as the vice chair of that task force), offers numerous dynamic courses (dialogues) to raise the level of awareness concerning racial discrimination.

Starting on the 3rd week of classes, students will participate in a specially scheduled UUR Dialogue on Race, for six weeks, 12:00 Noon – 1:30 PM, Tuesday, April 14, 21, 28 and May 05, 12 & 19 of 2015.

Assisting with realization of our mutual objective of equalizing access to justice for all, students will work on small team projects undertaking assigned tasks related to UUR mission.

Students' learning outcomes will be represented through the final product of the course which will include design, development and presentation (to UUR Board as well as PSU & other community organizational representatives) by each of the above mentioned project teams.

NOTE: This course is specially recommended for students in: Administration of Justice, Child & Family Studies, Sociology, Social Work, Political Science, Conflict Resolution, Linguistics, International Studies, Pre-Law and Law as well as professionals within the Justice System

EVALUATION: Requirements include attendance, participation, in class small group exercises, weekly journals, critical analysis and reflection papers and the final team projects

Attendance & Participation	75 possible points	90 - 100 % = A
Group Exercises (5 points each)	25 possible points	80 - 89 % = B
Critical Reviews (10 points each)	30 possible points	70 - 79 % = C
Reflection Journals (10 points each)	30 Possible points
The Final Project	240 possible points
Total Possible Points	400 possible points

EQUALIZING TO JUSTICE

Week I
T, March 31

Introduction to the course

Theoretical perspectives
Modern Society and Social Justice
Patterns of Intergroup Relations
Universal Declaration of Human Rights

Video presentation: "Struggle for Equality"

When Justice is Compromised

Judicial Disparities, Is There A Social Problem?

Assignment: Read Intro and chapter 1 of both books. Write a 500-word reflection journal on "what does Justice mean to me". Weekly journals will include a related article and/or picture from a selected publication.

Week II
T. April 07

The Sociology of Law

Toward the definition of Justice
Equalizing Access to Justice..
The Oregon Supreme Court Task Force on Racial/ Ethnic Issues in the Judicial System
Video Presentation: "Justice and Privilege"
Small group exercise and discussion

Uniting to Understand Racism, Community Partner
Guest Lecturer: Prof. Stephanie McBride, Board Pres. RNW
Discussion of the final project and formation of the Project Groups

Assignment: read chapter. 2, Breaking Ice, chapter 2 Jim Crew and reading packet assignments. Write a thoughtful critical review of a reading assignment of your choice. Final project teams meet and prepare your 1st progress report due next session.

Week III
T. April 14

The Legacy of Historical Racism

A comprehensive examination The U.S. History
Video: The House We Live In
Guest Lecturer: Prof. Stephanie McBride

Assignment: Read chapter 3 from Breaking the Ice and the reading packet assignments. Prepare a reflection journal on this week's experience. Project teams meet and prepare your 2nd progress report due next session.

Tuesday April 14 - 1st UUR Dialogue session, 12:00 - 1:30 pm
Justice Edwin Paterson and Dr. Duane Bosworth

Equalizing Access to Justice

Week IV
T. April 21

Administration of Justice
Restorative Justice versus Retributive Justice

Justice, The Native American Tradition & Experience
Guest Lecturers: Officer. Dave Barrios

Progress report of final project groups
Video Presentation: TBA
Small group exercise and discussion

Assignment: Read Chapter 4, Breaking the Ice, Chapter 3, Jim Crew and assignments from the reading packet. Write a thoughtful critical review of a reading assignment of your choice. Project groups meet and prepare your 3rd progress report.

Tuesday April 21 – 2nd UUR dialogue session, 12:00 – 1:30 PM

Week V
T. April 28

Crime and Criminal Justice System
Equality under the Law, What is the Question?
Justice – Substantive versus Rational Law

Being Ethical When No One Is Looking
Discretionary Authority and Decisions
Color of Justice, Profiling and the probable cause

Video Presentation: " A Time to Kill "
Small group exercise and discussion

Assignment: Read chapter 5, Breaking the Ice and other reading assignments. Prepare your reflection journal on "Substantive Versus Rational Law". Project teams meet and prepare your 4th progress report due next session.

Tuesday April 28 – 3rd UUR dialogue session, 12:00 – 1:30 PM

Equalizing Access to Justice

Week VI

T. May 05

When Justice is compromised

Linguistic and Cultural Barriers to Justice

Multicultural Imperatives and Dynamics

The Real Story, The Muslim American Experience

Guest Lecturer: Mr. Wael Elasadly:

New Comers to America; in search for Liberty and Justice

Immigration Law and Practice

Progress report of the final project groups.

Assignment: Read Chapter 5 of the text and complete assignments from the reading packet. Prepare your reflection journal on: "When Justice is compromised due to language and cultural barriers" Project groups meet and prepare 4th progress report due next session.

Tuesday May 05 – 4th UUR dialogue session, 12:00 – 1:30 PM

Week VII

T. May12

Utilizing Conflict,

Struggle for fairness and justice

A celebration of common good for all

Difference in the Eyes of the Law

A Class Apart, The Latino American Experience

Guest Lecturer: TBA

Video Presentation: " A Class Apart".

Small group exercise and discussion

Assignment: Complete reading assignments. Write a thoughtful critical review of a reading assignment of your choice. Project groups meet and prepare 5th progress report due next session.

Tuesday May 12 - 5th UUR dialogue session, 12:00 -1:30 PM

Equalizing Access to Justice

Week VIII

T. May 19

From Creating Definitions to Living Them

Equalizing Access to Justice; Opening the Doors

The Judicial Branch, The Community Conscious

Leadership from the Bench

Role of the Judges in Conveying and Instilling Values

Assignment: Reading packet assignments.

*Prepare your last reflective journal: Lessons Learned -

Equalizing Access to Justice for All, Removing the Barriers

Project groups meet prepare last progress report due next session.

Tuesday, May 19 -Final UUR Dialogue session,12:00 - 1:30 pm

Week IX

T. May 26

Discussion and Evaluation of Learning Outcomes

Lessons Learned will be shared and discussed

Practice presentation of the final projects in preparation for the final presentations next week: Tuesday, June 02, 2015

Week X

T. June 02

Special Presentation of Final Projects.

Presentation to UUR Board of Directors

Special meeting of the board- Class will meet at:

Davis Wright Tremaine, Wells Fargo Bank Tower

1300 SW Fifth Ave., Portland, OR

Many congratulations to our graduating seniors

We are proud of you and your accomplishments

Hope that you will always keep in close touch with your humanity in the pursuit of

JUSTICE FOR ALL

Special thanks to UUR and our esteemed Facilitators, Guest Lecturers and Project mentors

Instructions - Critical Review

1.

- 1 Write a list of questions or observations as you read the article. This can include praise for the way the author made a certain point, a question about something you didn't understand, a section you believe could have been elaborated on, or a disagreement about how the author presented certain information. This list will serve as a guide for your criticism as you outline and write your essay.
- 2 Write an outline for your essay. This should include an introduction, an unbiased summary of the article (which you will expand on in the first draft), and a list of both the positive and negative points that you noted in Step 1. Present the negative points first if the positive points outweigh them, or vice versa. Follow with a statement about the conclusion.
- 3 Write the first draft, beginning with your introduction. This must include the name of the article and journal, the author's name, and the topic or the aim of the article, along with a short statement about your overall take on the topic.
- 4 Write the summary. This should inform the reader of the overall most important points the author made in the article, and what you believe his intentions were.
- 5 Write the critical part of your review, which will be divided into a few paragraphs based on the outline you created. Cite references specifically both with the journal article and from other reliable sources to support your argument and give your review credibility. As with your outline, separate the positive from the negative points, and lead with whichever you have fewer of.
- 6 Write the conclusion for your review. This should summarize your overall thoughts on the article and add any justification you didn't mention in the body.
- 7 Write a bibliography, which should cite both the journal article as well as any other sources you used to support your points.

Read more: How to Write Critical Reviews of Journal Articles | eHow.com
http://www.ehow.com/how_6922291_write-critical-reviews-journal-articles.html#ixzz1b0Vbgr8Q